

4TU.AMI Conference

“Mathematics Education: the next decade and beyond”

Alisa Lochner (University of Twente)

What works in digital testing: the math case study

Digital testing has the potential to offer feedback that is instant, personalised and efficient. However, concerns remain about to what extent Mathematics can be digitally tested. In this workshop, it will be explored by participants the cognitive levels of tried-and-tested undergraduate Mathematics questions to discover what works in digital testing.